Knowing WINE

Expert connoisseurs and amateur enthusiasts agree — some are just better than others

BY JERRY GREENFIELD
vino@floridaweekly.com

THE WINE WORLD IS A BIG PLACE, and it churns

with dozens of issues that drive people crazy. Of all the topics that are grounds for spirited and sometimes bitter debate, the issue of wine ratings is at the top of the list.

Do they matter? Do those point scores really steer

'Fabric of Survival' on exhibit at Holocaust museum

BY CINDY PIERCE

cpierce@floridaweekly.com

The Holocaust Museum & Education Center of Southwest Florida presents a unique photographic exhibit this summer on the theme of Holocaust memory. "Fabric of Survival: The Story of Esther Niesental Krinitz as Told through Her Needlework" has been displayed around the world and will be at the center in Naples through Aug. 6.

Esther Niesental Krinitz survived the Holocaust as a teenager in Poland. In 1977, at the age of 50, she started creating large-scale needlework panels telling her

KEEPING YOU CONNECTED.

It was all pomp and circumstance (and cake and balloons) as 18 proud youngsters became the first graduates of the fulltime 4-year-old class in the Bright Beginnings preschool and family literacy program at Grace Place for Children and Families.

1. Alexandra's proud family
2. Lauren and Melanie
3. Estefania with Diane Ponton, director of family literacy at Grace Place for Children and Families
4. Many family members brought balloons for the young grads.
5. John
6. Isabella and Johan
7. Abigail with some of her family after the ceremony
