Grace Place Receives $20,000 Grant from Charles Schwab Foundation to Support Student and Family Success

Naples, Fla. – Grace Place for Children and Families has received a $20,000 grant from the Charles Schwab Foundation to support its mission of providing education and opportunity for children and families in Collier County.

The grant will help strengthen Grace Place's comprehensive education programs, which focus on English literacy, academic support, and whole-family learning. Through this approach, students stay on track in school while parents build the skills and confidence needed to support their children's success and pursue opportunities for their families.

"At Grace Place, we see every day that when families are supported through education, they are able to move forward and build stronger futures," said Larā Fisher, CEO of Grace Place. "We are grateful to the Charles Schwab Foundation for their investment in our mission and the lasting impact it creates for the families we serve."

Grace Place serves more than 1,300 children and adults each year through programs that begin in early childhood and continue through high school and into adulthood. This continuum of support helps students build a strong academic foundation, remain engaged throughout their education, and prepare for college, careers, and long-term success.

By investing in both students and their parents, Grace Place creates an environment where learning continues beyond the classroom and becomes part of daily life at home.

The Charles Schwab Foundation is committed to supporting initiatives that strengthen communities and expand opportunity.
